PHS: HOME OF THE WAVE ADVENTURE

In 1963, PHS was designed by Gordon B. Galush, a Petersburg architect. The project was delayed until August 1972 by lack of funds. The foundation was put in at this time. The English Construction Company laid the foundation of an area of 5.5 acres. The total cost was $5,924,515.

On September 3, 1974, a flag raistng ceremony was held and the new PHS officially opened. This new four wing building replaces the 52 year old structure on West Washington Street.

1. Many distinguished guests have passed through these great columns at PHS to be welcomed by the many distinguished students of PHS. 2. A wave of power overcomes all who admire the qualities of PHS. 3. The South Wing holds many classes for students with special talents. 4. As you leave the halls of PHS, look back and remember your many experiences and adventures.

THE ELYSIAN FIELDS

In Greek Mythology there is a place of rest and joy for heroes and others that have done good deeds for their fellow men. It is a place of serenity with ever flowing streams of cool clear water, huge green shady trees, the freshest of fruits, the sweetest nectars and sumptuous meats. It is a land where the air is scented with the fragrance of every possible variety of flowers. Achilles, Cadmus, Aeneas, Bellerophon, and other Greek Heroes spend their days here hunting and fishing and engaging in games. They have no fear of being injured for there is no pain, illness, or death there.

The Elysian Fields symbolize man's hope for and belief in a place of eternal happiness. Everyone dreams of such a world, but we live in a real world in which to have happiness we must make it ourselves. Hamlet said "Nothing is either good or bad, but thinking makes it so." We have a tendency to put down our city and our school. Maybe we do this because it's so familiar to us that we unconsciously pick out every flaw and overlook the good things.

Petersburg High School is a tool. It by itself cannot perform miracles. It cannot produce well-rounded citizens just by existing. PHS is only as good as its occupants. PHS cannot fail unless we fail. If we work hard to put into it as much as we expect to get out of it, it can do nothing but grow and thrive.

We sometimes forget that no matter where we go, or what we become, we are more than brick or mortar at PHS. When we say we are not proud of our school we're saying we're not proud of ourselves. PHS offers a balanced education including academics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities. How you use the resources offered to you is your decision. One could never say we don't have any problems, but we have a lot going for us too. A variety of subjects are offered including everything from Calculus to Child Care. With such a wide range of subjects to choose from, a student can choose subjects that closely relate to his career interests. No one can deny the ability of our athletes. They always give 100% and win, lose, or draw, they are fine representatives of PHS. The clubs of PHS show the community that we care by their many civic activities. Homerooms contributed toward thanksgiving baskets for the needy, and the Booster's Club raised money for scholarships. Our teachers are always there to offer instruction and sound advice. In meetings they ask for better rules and equipment to improve our education. We have trained counselors to help us select the courses that are best for us as well as make post-high school decisions.

This year our school is under new direction. Mr. James Porach is now our principal. He has shown that he is a capable, fair, and just administrator. He hopes to maintain a standard of excellence in all areas of school life.

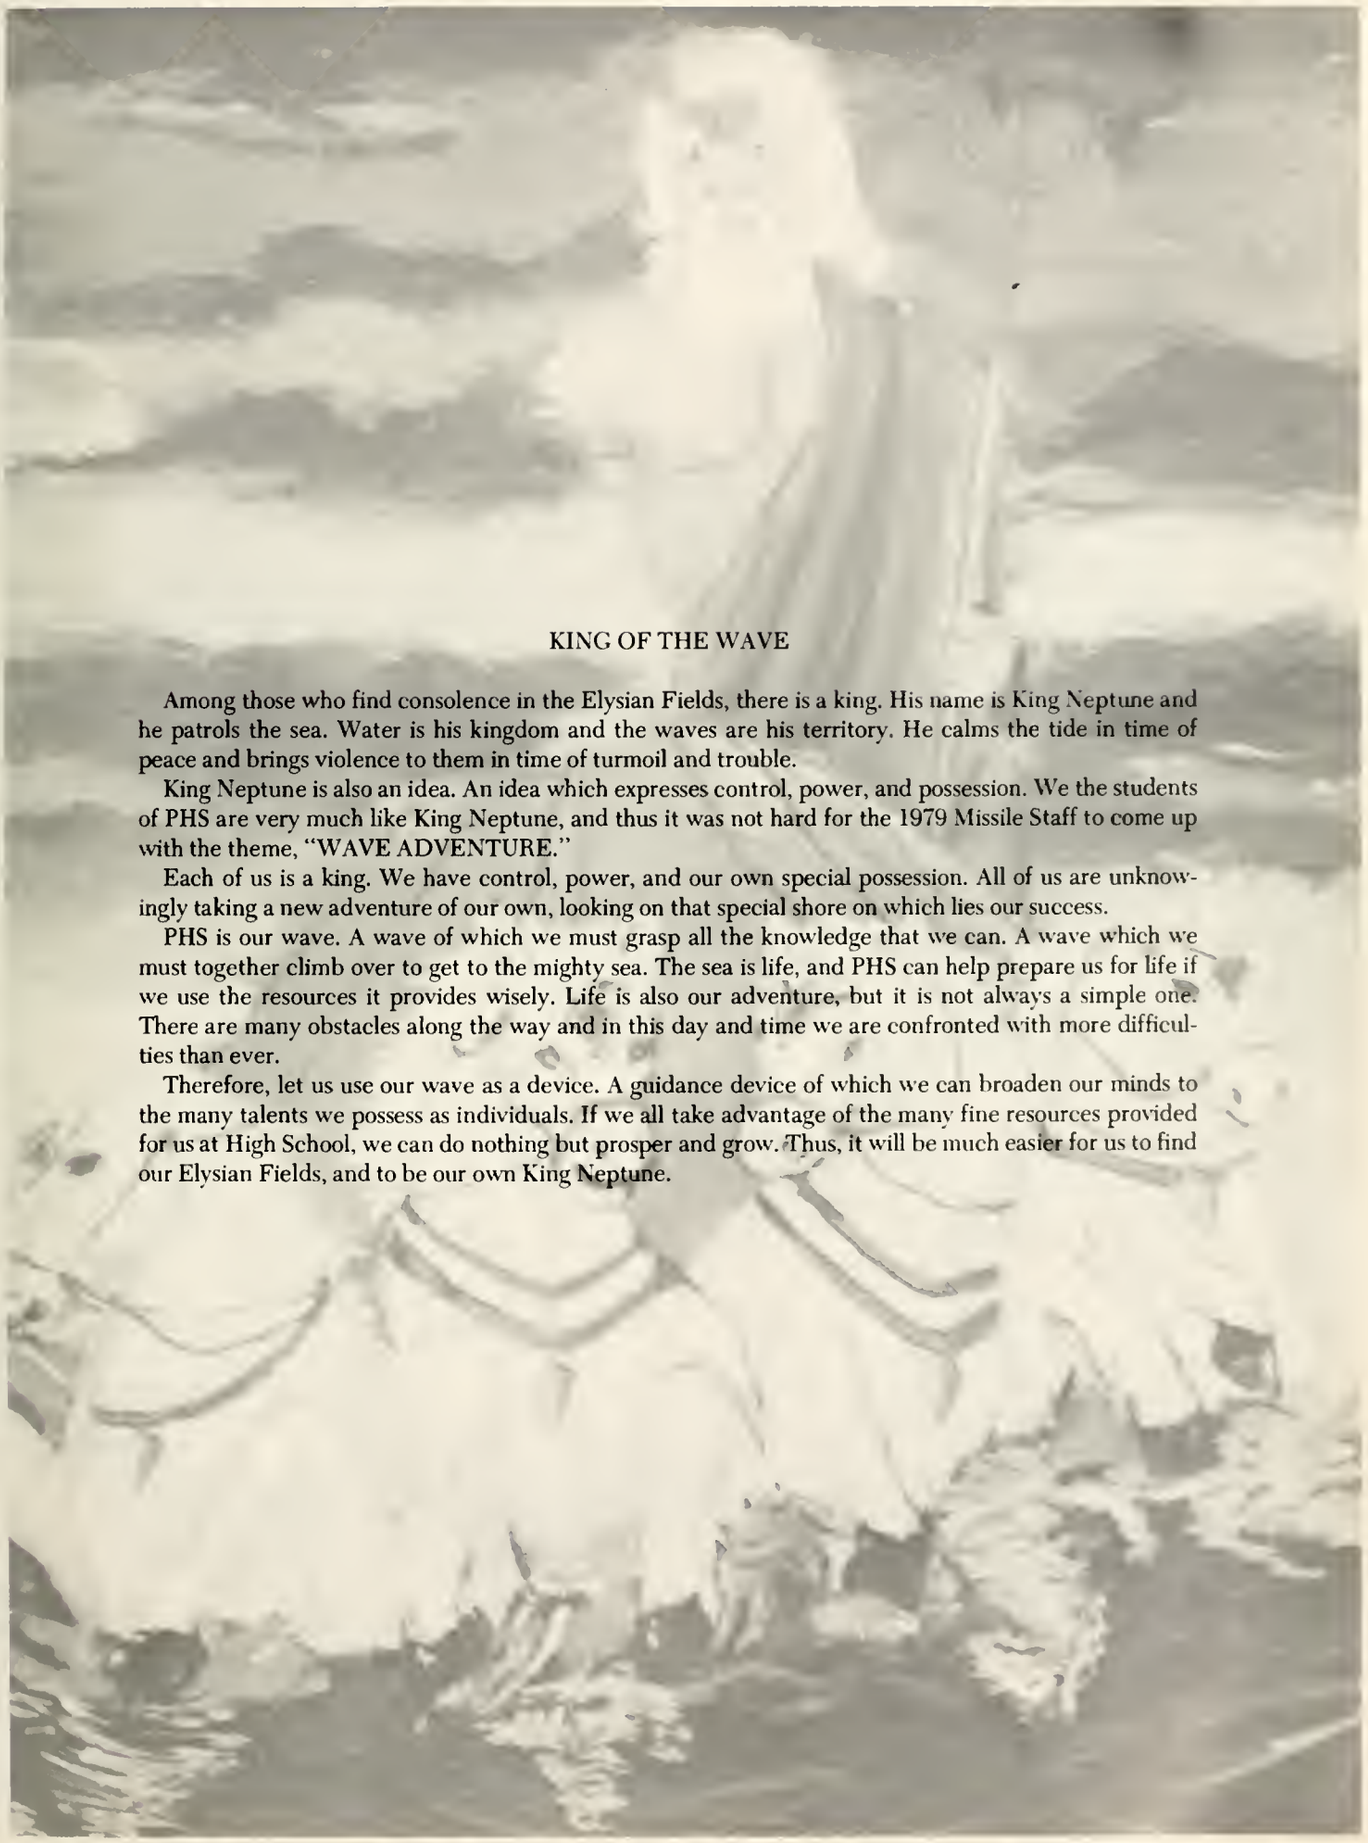
PHS incorporates innovative ideas to fill the needs of young, expanding minds. Mr. Hairston, Head of the Social Studies Department, has provided the Intellectual Enrichment Series which serves to make students more politically aware, to introduce them to city officials and the duties of the jobs they occupy and to get them involved in the affairs of the city. Attorney General Marshall Coleman, Lieutenant Governor Charles Robb, and Mr. Jack Gravely (Executive Director of the NAACP) are three of the guests who spoke to us. Mr. Richardson sponsored a trip to France during the Spring break and French students received the equivalent of on the job training. They applied classroom principles and learned new words and phrases as well as picking up cultural knowledge. The Business Department, (headed by Mrs. G. Jones) entered talented FBCA members into regional and state contests. This served as an incentive to business students. The skills learned in the classroom helped many get part-time jobs. The Guidance Department sponsored College Night. Over 100 colleges sent representatives and students from surrounding areas to be our guests.

All in all, Petersburg High School is a halfway point. It's a long road getting here; it's a longer one (seemingly endless) getting out, and once we do there's our future (finally). It takes true dedication and effort to achieve our goals and the paths we take along the way make the difference. A good school record is our key to a successful future and if we apply ourselves we can have that key.

The Elysian Fields is an idea, something to aspire to. For the here and now we have to see both sides of the fence, set our goals, and work steadfastly toward them.

Best wishes to the faculty and students of PHS.

1979 Yearbook Staff



KING OF THE WAVE

Among those who find consolence in the Elysian Fields, there is a king. His name is King Neptune and he patrols the sea. Water is his kingdom and the waves are his territory. He calms the tide in time of peace and brings violence to them in time of turmoil and trouble.

King Neptune is also an idea. An idea which expresses control, power, and possession. We the students of PHS are very much like King Neptune, and thus it was not hard for the 1979 Missile Staff to come up with the theme, "WAVE ADVENTURE."

Each of us is a king. We have control, power, and our own special possession. All of us are unknowingly taking a new adventure of our own, looking on that special shore on which lies our success.

PHS is our wave. A wave of which we must grasp all the knowledge that we can. A wave which we must together climb over to get to the mighty sea. The sea is life, and PHS can help prepare us for life if we use the resources it provides wisely. Life is also our adventure, but it is not always a simple one. There are many obstacles along the way and in this day and time we are confronted with more difficulties than ever.

Therefore, let us use our wave as a device. A guidance device of which we can broaden our minds to the many talents we possess as individuals. If we all take advantage of the many fine resources provided for us at High School, we can do nothing but prosper and grow. Thus, it will be much easier for us to find our Elysian Fields, and to be our own King Neptune.

Students of PHS participated in the WAVE ADVENTURE in every way possible. Divided and yet united, students upheld the high reputation PHS holds for quality. Record breaking athletes, meritorious academic scholars, successful business leaders, trained vocational specialists, and scientific geniuses are only a few of the outstanding citizens which are produced at Petersburg High School. Not only are our students the cream of the crop, but our teachers and administrators are also prime choices. The people at PHS depict Neptune in a special way. Each of us is our own king riding on the wave of PHS.

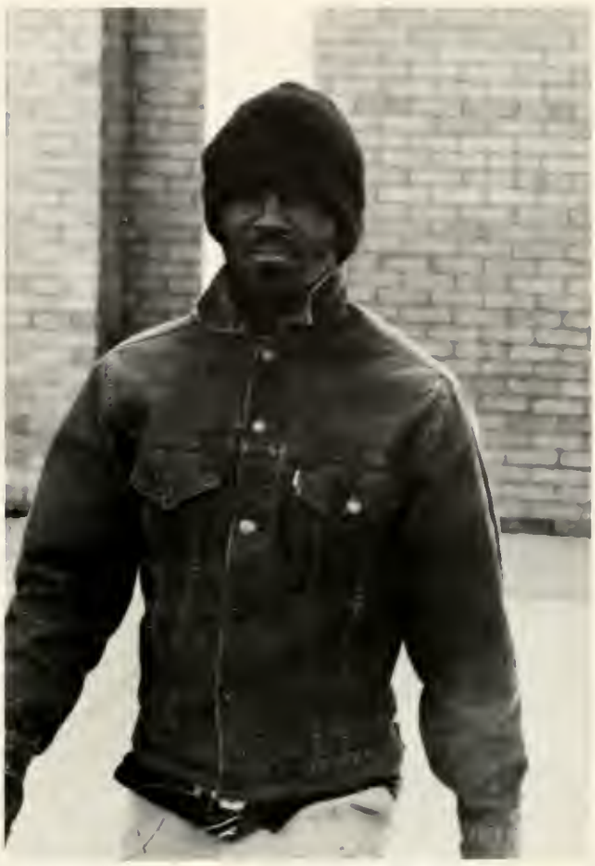
We are each like a WAVE in the water, looking for a shore to land upon.

WAVE IS THE BEST !



The Student Life at PHS nourished the WAVE ADVENTURE. Activities such as pep rallies, class meetings, assemblies, Homecoming 1978, the I.E. Series, Black History Month and FBLA Week helped to keep the spirit flowing at PHS. Hanging-out before school and meeting between classes gave students a chance to catch up on homework, fashions, and gossip. Student Life at PHS wasn't all fun during school. Teachers piled on the work; the heating system failed and students had to sacrifice too many holidays for snow days.

1. "Charlie Blue" Young increases his knowledge of Spanish. 2. Radio stations WSSU and WHAP broadcast one PHS basketball game. 3. VARIOUS HAPPENINGS MAKE

There is alot going on here at Petersburg High School. Sometimes the monotony of school life is broken up by an assembly or football game. But one happening that comes every day is lunch. This time is spent in various ways. Some like to study, others like to relax. But for others, lunch is what its name implies: a time to "grub".

I. E. SERIES BROADENS THE MINDS OF

THE I. E. SERIES

Petersburg High School is truly fortunate to have met Lt. Governor, Charles Robb; Attorney General, Marshall Coleman and Dr. William R. Harvey, president of Hampton Institute, through the Intellectual Enrichment Series. This unique program was started to benefit the students of Petersburg High School. The I.E. Series brings intelligent and successful individuals to PHS to discuss with our students their accomplishments. Through their appearances, it is hoped that students will discover that their dreams are not impossible and that they can be reached through perseverance and hard work.

The first speaker in the I.E. Series was Lt. Governor Charles Robb. In his speech, Lt. Governor Robb stressed the importance of involvement in our local and national governments. He appealed to his audiences to get involved in matters that have an impact on us, by working in and through the system to bring about constructive changes. Mr. Robb concluded his speech by fielding questions from students. He indicated that he was pleased to see such student interest in current affairs. Lt. Governor Robb was introduced by Ms. Stewart Gamage, liason for the Lt. Governor. Ms. Gamage is a former student of Petersburg High School. She graduated in 1968 as an outstanding young woman, being head varsity cheerleader, honor student, artist, and a city tennis champion. Ms. Gamage then attended the college of William and Mary.

Attorney General Coleman addresses the student body during one of the I.E. Series.

Mr. Rainey expresses the significance of hard work and dedication to the student body.

Mr. Hairston producer and coordinator of the I.E. Series addressed students before the introduction of the speaker.

The meaningfulness of a strong hand shake is obvious facial expression of John Lee as he shakes hand of Attorney General Coleman.

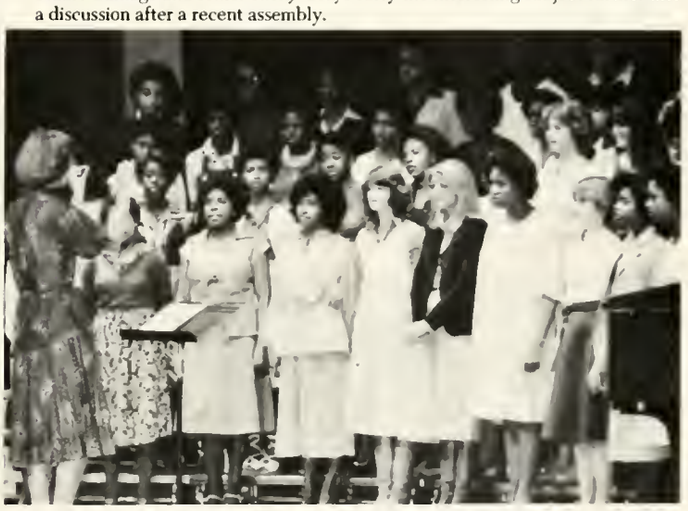
Attorney Beth Hopkins returns to her Alma Mater to introduce The Honorable Marshall Coleman.

PHS STUDENTS

Mr. Robb was the first to address students and teachers at the I.E. Series.

Stuart Gamage and senior Ricky Grays carry the interesting subject further into a discussion after a recent assembly.

Jeff Turner, Mr. Porach, Mr. Hairston and special guest Dr. Harvey share a brief conversational moment.



Musical enrichment is provided by Mrs. Gravitt and the Chorale.

Attorney General Charles E. Robb autographs students pamphlets after the assembly.

Attorney General Marshall Coleman was the next personality to speak in the I.E. Series. The main theme of Mr. Coleman's speech concerned the establishment of uniform sentences in the penal system. He cited several examples of how criminal punishment can be unfair. Mr. Coleman concluded his speech by answering student's questions pertaining to gun control, capital punishment, the parole system, and collective punishment in pson. Attorney General Coleman was introduced by Mrs. Beth Norbrey Hopkins, Assistant State Attorney General of Virginia for Special Education and the Virginia Supplementary Retirement System. A former student at Petersburg High School, Mrs. Hopkins is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Norbrey, a member of the science department here. During her three years of attendance, Mrs. Hopkins was a member of the band and the choir, and an honor student included in "Who's Who Among American High School Students". She was graduated cum laude from Wake Forest in 1973 and from the Marshall Wythe School of Law at the College of William and Mary in 1977. She was admitted to the Virginia State Bar in February of that year. She now lives in Richmond with her husband, David Hopkins, M.D.

There has been favorable student input about the Series, and it has been greatly appreciated. All in all, the I.E. Series has been a meaningful and successful educational experience for the students of Petersburg High School.

SCHOOL SPIRIT IS

FALL PLAY, THREE 1 ACTS

The Crimson and Gold Troupe presented three one-acts for their fall production this year.

The first was "Louder I Can't Hear You" about a frustrated wife's attempts to get her family to listen to her. The cast (top right) Lorie Dance, Melanie Perry, Roger perry, Jenny Dorr, Jerry Bannell, Mary Jane Lukomski.

The second was "Pot Luck On Friday Night" a humorous tale of a surprise blind date. The cast (middle right) Ray Turner, Joan Sears, Alma Minter, Jerry Bannell, Karen Kohlhepp, Roger Perry.

"THE WORLD OF MUSIC"

Edmund Whitely and Karen Woods throw their hearts into a beautiful duet.

During the summer of 1978, several students from Petersburg Public Schools assembled at Petersburg High School each week. Their purpose: to put together another edition of "Spotlight". The results: Spotlight 78!

"Spotlight 78" was, once again, a big success. The Spotlight company played to capacity audiences during its public performances. This year's production, entitled "The World of Music", was dedicated to the memory of Mr. John D. Meade, who was Superintendent of Petersburg Public Schools for over thirty years. The show had themes ranging from the world of Elvis to the world of Crosby. There were also musical renditions of songs by, Duke Ellington, and Tony Orlando.

Dance numbers, such as this Charleston was an intricate part of the "Spotlight" production.

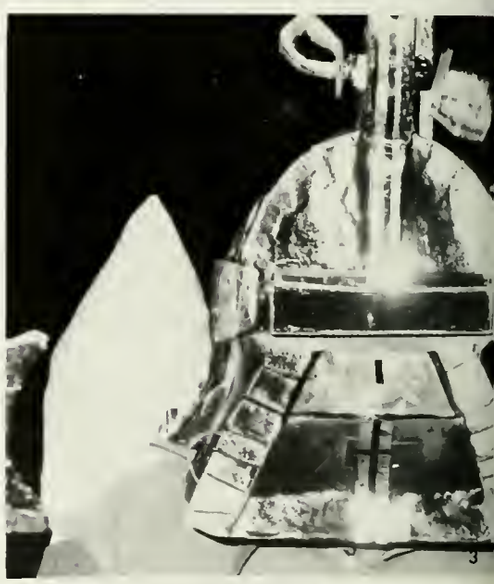
Kenny Burchett electrifies the audience with his rendition of Elvis Presley's "Hound Dog" (or "I'm All Shook Up")

HOMECOMING WEEK DISPLAYS

October 30 through November 3 was the week of preparation for Homecoming 1978. The scent of victory was in the air and the theme, "Dreams of the Future" was expressed universally throughout the school as the student body participated in a week unity and togetherness by participating in a series of events sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders.

The week began with Lollipop day when the majority of the student body paraded around PHS with lollipops. Jeans and T-shirt day along with dress-up day followed, and enhanced the physical appearance of our dearly beloved school.



1. Pure vigor and excitement are expressed by Mr. Porach and Stephanie Holmes. 2. The parents of senior football players are introduced during halftime. 3. Dreams of friends from outer space were depicted in this young alien's costume. 4. Football sweetheart contestants walk the line. 5. "What planet are we approaching?", says this spaceship pilot.

UNITY AND TOGETHERNESS

Meadowbrook was the only school we could find courageous enough to challenge us in a football game, and even their pride was shattered as the Crimson Wave blew them away. Not only did the football team put on a show, but also did the band which got down, got funky and got loose, as they stepped to the tunes of "Last Dance" and "Close the Door".

As usual, there was a dazzling Homecoming parade and the crowning of two lovely young ladies. Monica White, representing the Chorale, was crowned Miss Homecoming 1978, with runners-up Lynn Chariton and Cynthia Stewart. The title of Miss Football Sweetheart was won by Miss Stephanie Pride.

Homecoming '78 proved to be very special because a certain bond existed among those present. The time was right and the night air was clear, as the crowd showed their devotion to dear, old PHS.

BLACK

We here at Petersburg High School are virtually unaware of the many black scholars, authors, artists and scientists, that make up the bulk of our history. This crutch is not only a part of the members of Petersburgh High School; it is one that exists among people everywhere. Because of this, the entire month of February has been declared Black History Month. This is a definite step forward for the learning of Black History but it is a step that should be changed. Black History is a great part of American and World History and as a result should be included in their study. If we study Black History for only one month and forget about it the rest of the year, we will continue to walk down a dark alley of our true heritage. The study of Black History is not only important to the lives of blacks in America, but is is also important to the lives of people of every creed and color. In order for us to improve relations among nations and relations among people, we must learn to understand one another. Therefore, history, all types of history, are important to the welfare of our world.

In cooperation with Black History Month, Petersburgh High School planned a number of special activities. A special I.E. Series featuring Mr. Jack Gravely, executive director of the NAACP highlighted the month along with an African dance performance by VCU students, and bulletin boards featuring outstanding blacks were displayed throughout the building.

As part of the education of Black History, the Missile Staff has featured 2 of the fathers of Black History. Among them are Carter G. Woodson, William C. Nell, William Wells Brown, Joseph T. Wilson, George W. Williams, and W.E.B. DuBois. Featured are Carter G. Woodson and W.E.B. DuBois.

CARTER G. WOODSON
(1875-1950)

Carter Godwin Woodson is considered the first Afro-American historian, because he founded the main organizations and journals, systematically gathered the basic source materials, and wrote prolifically about the history of his people. A resident of Buckingham County, VA, Carter was a very ambitious individual. Being one in a family of eleven, Carter spent his early days helping his parents in the field and thus could not attend the five-month term of the district school for blacks regularly. Through self-instruction he was able to absorb the rudiments of elementary schooling by the time he was 17. Carter attended secondary school in Huntington W.VA. at Douglass High School while working in coal mines to support himself and his family. He studied at Berea College for two years and then became a teacher at Winona. His work was very impressive. So much, that he was called to the principalship of his former high school, Douglass High. Carter continued his education, and attended such prestigious schools as the University of Chicago, the University of Paris, and Harvard University.

While a teacher of history, English, Spanish, and French in Dunbar High School, Carter received a Ph.D. in history from Harvard University, being only the second black in the world to obtain this degree. Woodson then concentrated on the history field and devoted his whole career to correcting misconceptions about the black man's past. In 1915 he founded The Association for the Study of Negro Life and History. In 1916, Woodson brought out the first issue of The Journal of Negro History which has been published continuously ever since.

From 1919-1920 he was Dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Head of the Graduate Faculty at Howard University in Washington and later became the Dean of West Virginia Collegiate Institute. He retired in 1922 and devoted the twenty-eight years left in his life to Negro History. He wrote such famous books as The Negro Wage Earner, The Negro in our History, and The History of the Negro Church.

W.E.B DuBois
(1868-1963)

William Edward Burghardt DuBois a resident of Great Barrington, Mass. influenced all twentieth-century black protest thought and helped found the NAACP. William grew up in a family which his father had abandoned and lived on his grandfather's farm. In order that William could receive a good education, his mother pursued domestic work. He was the only black in his high school and was named its outstanding pupil. Along with this title William received a scholarship which was normally to New England college, but instead sent William to Fisk University. William graduated from Fisk and then attended Harvard University and received an A.B. in philosophy. He continued his graduate study at Harvard by pursuing the fields of political economy and history. William also studied abroad at the University of Berlin and later taught at Wilberfore University in Ohio. In 1896 DuBois's dissertation Suppression of the African Slave Trade, became the first volume in the Harvard Historical Studies and thus was the first black to receive a Ph.D. in history. His second book, The Philadelphia Negro was published a year later, and was a result of a sociological investigation during which time he was also a sociology instructor at the University of Pennsylvania.

DuBois was very scholarly and arrogant. He had a tendency to openly express his views and took a strong stand for what he believed. He challenged the leadership of Booker T. Washington, seeking to revive the militancy of Douglass and published Souls of Black Folk which criticized Washington's tactics. Two years later, he founded the Niagara Movement and soon became founder and editor of The Crisis, the NAACP's monthly magazine. Ignoring the NAACP's integrationist platform, DuBois attacked Marcus Garvey, fostered Pan-Americanism, labor solidarity, racial chauvinism, and a separate black economic-cultural order, through the use of The Crisis's page.

As a result of disagreement, DuBois resigned and founded Phylon Magazine in which he criticized Atlanta University. He added two more books to his collection, Black Reconstruction and Dusk of Dawn and returned to the NAACP. DuBois continued his success by sponsoring a Pan-American Conference in London which grew into a great field that caused him to be considered the "Godfather of African Independence." By the age of 93, DuBois had become a citizen of Ghana and joined the Communist Party. He wrote such novels as Dark Princess, as well as stories and poems, of which are collected in Darkwater. Age did not stop DuBois from achieving his goals, as he was compiling an Encyclopedia Africana at the time of his death. Living among many other Black spokesmen DuBois died on the day of Martin Luther King's March on Washington, which was eighteen months before the assassination of Malcolm X.

3. All together

Darryl Ruffin — Why do you think PHS is the BEST!

"Because we have ALL the fine ladies!"

Clubs and Organizations at PHS assisted the WAVE ADVENTURE, as many students expressed their talents in group activities. The Booster's Club gave jackets to athletes, scholarships to outstanding seniors, and rendered community service. The SCA provided assistance to the needy. FBLA helped produce many successful business leaders and the Vocational School turned out many skilled specialists. The Clubs and Organizations at PHS in 1979 proved to be a definite asset to a successful future.

"79" YEARBOOK BECOMES A REALITY

The Missile Staff of 1978-79 was a group of ten seniors and five juniors who worked non-stop to present the student body with a yearbook that they could be proud of. The deadlines were harder to meet than anticipated by the "rookie staff", but dedication brought their goals within reach.

Advised by Mrs. Beth Hugate and Editor Angela Taylor, sales were promoted with a film and music show. A workshop was also attended.

Much thought and imagination went into the cover of our Missile. The King of the Sea, Neptune, is related to the power of the PHS Crimson Wave. The Wave Adventure '79 began early in the summer of '78.

REVIEW EXPRESSES FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

This year the Review has gone through a major "face lift." For the first time in many years, the editors participated in a Virginia High School League Publications Workshop held at the University of Virginia on the weekend of October 28. Only four of the staff members from the 1978 Review returned this year. The staff has tried to put many new ideas into effect and hopes that the student body has enjoyed the Review.

Upper right — Judy Lee takes time to smile while working on a feature article.
Middle — Nate Peet and Scott Turnamian really do have a flair for writing when they feel like it.

CHEERLEADERS RADIATE ENTHUSIASM AND SPIRIT

The Varsity Cheerleaders are like a family tradition at PHS. This year's squad of twelve girls has kept up the excellent reputation with the high spirits they inspire on the playing field and off. Practices are held nearly every afternoon and the girls are able to form a very special and close relationship with one another. They travel to away games and give the varsity basketball and football teams constant support. Lunches on game days were accompanied by treats baked by the girls and their posters could have been seen any day of the week with slogans suggesting defeat of the other team. Fund raising projects included the sale of doughnuts and T-shirts. As their sponsor, Mrs. Gloria T. Smith is a great asset to the girls.

Top — The Cheerleaders can't seem to keep a straight face during their "Hello" cheer to the other squad.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS PROMOTE GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

The purpose of the Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad is to promote the overall athletic program at the High School. They identify and introduce to the school family and community the participants of girls basketball, junior varsity football and basketball. They foster school spirit throughout the student body and community, and they create a more positive attitude and response to the athletic program. Sponsor of the squad this year was Ms. Alva E. Myrick. The group is commended for their overall good job.

THE PHS MARCHING BAND

The Petersburg High School Marching Band can be heard throughout the Battlefield Park Area during the summer. Cars on Homestead Drive actually stop to watch and listen to the beats and sounds of our great band. The sun of the hot summer days ripens the players in the band as it does the fruits of a fruit tree. By football season they are all ready to be picked. This is not only evident in their looks, but also their taste in music. In January, the band traveled to Chesterfield County to compete with 34 other schools. Many members won first chair positions and 17 people from Petersburg placed. Mr. McKinley is the band director. They are to be commended for an overall well-done job.

Mr. McKinley works with Gregory Morgan and Felecia Stretcher to get just the right sound.

MAJORETTES, RIFLE, AND FLAG GIRLS PERFORM MIRACULOUS FEATS

Majorettes, Rifle and Flag girls are all essential ingredients in making the PHS marching band, the great band that it is. Long hours of practice, beginning in the summer, prepare the girls for the football season ahead and for the band competition they engage in across the state. They learn to march in perfect step to the beat of the band and their talent is much appreciated.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION STRIVES TO ACHIEVE GOALS

Since its beginning in 1944, the Student Cooperative Association has maintained its purpose of helping govern the school and solving any problems that might arise. For the most part, they are responsible for the support and cooperation of the students of PHS in achieving success in their goals. Any one of the elected representatives is open for suggestions from anyone and they strive to create harmony within the school.

MODERN DANCE GROUP AND GIRL'S WRESTLING AUXILIARY DEMONSTRATE TALENTS

The Girl's Wrestling Auxiliary is in its fourth year. Many people think this squad is a wrestling cheerleading squad. This is not true. It was started to promote wrestling in our school and to have reliable, official scorekeepers. The squad has recently been expanded by allowing the girls to cheer.

Before a girl can become a member of the Girl's Wrestling Auxiliary Squad, she has to have and maintain a "C" average. She also has to take a test before she can become a member. Recently, the girls have been encouraged to develop their cheerleading ability. They hope, in the future, to see more response to the auxiliary and to the Wrestlers of Petersburg High.

DECA PREPARES STUDENTS FOR BUSINESS WORLD

In the Distributive Education Program at PHS, members, while continuing their education, gain professional experience in salesmanship, advertising, and part-time employment. Any student enrolled in the Distributive Education program is eligible for membership. The Distributive Education Club of America is a national youth organization within the schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution.

Petersburg students participate in district, state, and national contests concerning marketing functions. Other activities of this national youth organization include sending representatives to the annual DECA Conference in Richmond, Virginia, and participating in the district Convention in an area school.

DEBATING AND SOCIAL STUDIES CLUBS OFFER NEW INTERESTS

The Debating Club was a new club formed this year. Its sponsor is Mr. Robert E. Davis. Selected representatives from the group traveled to Washington D.C. from February 5-9. On this excursion they were able to sit in on meetings of Congress.

The Social Studies Club is in its first year of existence at PHS. It has a membership of 38 students, the majority of which are seniors and juniors, with only three selected sophomores.

The objectives of the club are to increase realtions with PHS and the community; to develop insight into events and places in our locality; to develop specific interest in planning, implementing, and evaluation; to understand principles of good management; to assist in the Department for the Social Studies; to organize and implement activities in the best interest of the student body; and to maintain the interest and purpose of the Social Studies. The sponsor of the club is Mr. Kenneth G. Leftwich.

DRAMA CLUB PERFORMS WITH ENTHUSIASM

The Crimson and Gold Troupe had a great start for the 1978-79 school year. The club elected a new set of officers: Kim Scarborough, President; Melanie Perry — Vice-President; Alma Minter — Treasurer; Karen Kohlhepp — Secretary, and Karen Massey — Historian. The club sponsor is Mr. Richard Zaruba.

The Drama Club again hosted the Central District Theatre Festival. This is a competition between the troupe and other district school's drama clubs. Each presents a one-act play or one scene from a play and they are judged to see who will go on to regional competition.

The club raised money for the treasury by selling drinks at Spotlight '78, the Community Concerts, the Public Forum, and at Richard Bland's summer production of "The Boyfriend."

The Troupe's productions this year include the fall play, the 3 one-act plays, "Louder," "I Can't Hear You," "Pot Luck on Friday Night," and "Mountain Madness." In March the Troupe presented "Big Boom at Castle Doom" and the final play was "Murder, Center Stage."

ART CLUB PLANS MANY WORTHWHILE EXCURSIONS

The Art Club this year was a very ambitious group. They worked hard to go on trips to Washington and Williamsburg. One of their fund-raising projects was selling candy. All of the teachers at PHS were presented this year with Christmas ornaments made by the members.

CONCERT CHOIR PERFORMS ON ALL OCCASIONS

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Susan Gravitte, performs for several assemblies throughout the year. Their lovely voices could be heard during any assembly of the I.E. Series and during the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas programs. Their performances contribute greatly, keeping the students interest.

SPANISH AND LATIN CLUBS HAVE LARGE MEMBERSHIPS

The Spanish Club had a pretty good start! This year, the Spanish Club consists of 85 members. They all paid dues!! The first meeting was held September 21 in W259. Everyone was welcomed by the president, Miss Karen Woods and the new sponsor, Mrs. Sylvia Carr. Plans for the upcoming year were discussed. The Spanish Club homecoming candidate was Miss Kim Tatum and she represented them well. The club had a fiesta for Christmas. Tacos, Spanish Meatballs, and snacks were served, and they had great fun with pinatas. Some of the club's plans were to have a dinner at Tortilla Flats, attendance of the Annual Foreign Language Fair in Richmond, participating in Foreign Language Week, and a trip to Spain was planned by Mrs. Carr.

The Latin Club of PHS strives hard to keep the so-called "dead language" alive. Their efforts are generally to help the school and community, and to spread cheer on the holidays. The Latin Club also supports the Latin National Honor Society.

FRENCH CLUB SETS AND ACCOMPLISHES GOALS

The French Club of PHS has always been a very active and hard working club. This year their float, emphasizing future peace through communication, won second place in the Homecoming float competition. The French Club offered its support and participation in the Foreign Language Week along with the other language clubs during the spring. A trip to Washington D.C. and a trip to a French restaurant were planned for the spring. Officers of the club were President Deborah Vaughn, Vice-President Alma Minter, Secretary Angela Taylor, Treasurer Patricia Curry, and Sgt.-at-Arms Darrell Stith.

FBLA

FBLA MEMBERS PROVE TO BE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS LEADERS

The Future Business Leaders of America Club at PHS prides itself in providing service, education, and progress. Mrs. D. Blake and Mrs. M. Quarles established the group in 1969. Throughout the year, the FBLA sponsors many projects including an assembly featuring a resource speaker from the C&P Telephone Company on February 13, 1979. Mrs. Gerrie Jones is the FBLA sponsor.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OFFERS PRACTICAL

Petersburgh High School has access to a Vocational Education Program not offered by all schools. The Vocational building on Washington Street and the I. B. Pittman building have many practical courses taught by qualified instructors.

The goal of the Occupational Child Care classes is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. The Occupational Food Service students have been studying how to prepare cake batter and how to decorate cakes for different occasions.

Other classes of the Vocational Education program include building trades, auto mechanics and electrical engineering classes. The students are given real life training in constructing homes.

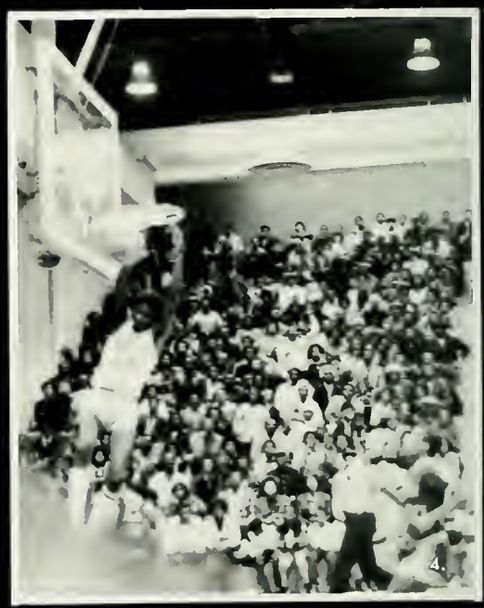
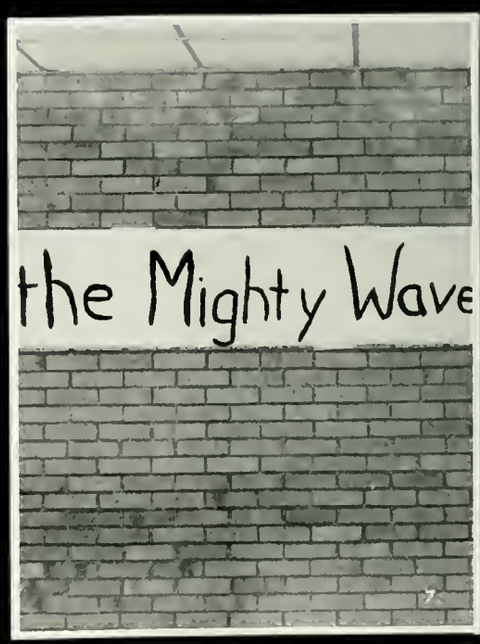
The sports edition of PHS led the WAVE ADVENTURE with victory after victory. A loss to Manchester by four points, winning the Central District Title, and a 72-71 victory over Hopewell in double overtime highlighted the year.

Being the best appeared to be a natural for the athletes of PHS, as they broke track records, won tennis matches, wrestled aggressively, and played golf like Jack Nicklaus. The athletes of 78-79 were better than good, greater than great and in some cases, the best.





1. Surrounded by four defenders, Kim Vaughn shoots a jumper. 2. Gary Wilson moves inside for a lay-up as teammates watch on. 3. James Briggs applies basic wrestling techniques to a Thomas Dale defender. 4. Bobby Stovall slams one over Walker Defenders. 5. Abe Shepard assists Craig Young after a quarterback sack. 6. Petersburg ball carrier falls inches short on fourth and one. 7. No. 1.

The senior class led the WAVE ADVENTURE for PHS during the 1979 school year. What was the WAVE ADVENTURE? For the senior the WAVE ADVENTURE consisted of post-high school decisions winning the central district title, drapes, tux, cap and gowns, SAT's, Achievement Tests, stiff exams, $8.00 for class dues, following Jim Porach's rules, the last dance, and the final day as a student at PHS.

1. Josephine Hill shows apprehension at trying a french fry, but eats it anyway. 2. Karen Woods calculates that three heads are better than one. 3. John Cecelic works diligently checking to see if his figures are correct. 4. Angela Allen is up to something. But what? 5. Henry Bellamy shows us his classic smile during one of his free moments.

SENIOR CLASS LOOKS BACK, MOVES FORWARD

September 3, 1974, was a day full of excitement for the class of 1979, because it was the first day of school at Peabody Junior High. Everyone walked around making new friends, renewing old ones, and just enjoying themselves. That day was the beginning of five years of study which would end in graduation.

The year was characterized by hassles from the upperclassmen, but we took it all in stride while participating in a great number of school activities. There were ten members of our class on the Senate of the SCA with approximately twenty homeroom representatives. Our class produced a basketball team and helped make up a football team and both had an undefeated season. As our first year of junior high school came to an end, we anxiously awaited our freshman year.

In our freshman year, we gained two privileges, a ninth grade prom and superlatives. From the first day of school, we talked about becoming sophomores at Petersburg High, but we still made our presence felt at Peabody. We were involved in more activities and clubs and proved we had leadership ability by having all of the SCA members being freshmen.

Freshmen dominated football which still had another undefeated season and the basketball team had four freshmen and they aided the team in an undefeated season. That year showed how multi-talented the class of '79 is.

The first few days of being a sophomore were a mixture of excitement and frustration. The excitement of seeing the new Petersburg High for the first time and the frustration of getting lost over and over again. We elected class officers for the first time this year. They were: Melvina Leech, President; Terri Bonner, Vice-president; Bonnie Sims, Secretary; and Sherry Cooksey, Regina Shands, and Shelton Lanier, Senators.

Mrs. Bailey stressed the importance of our grade averages so we buckled down and studied but also had a regular season champion football team. Two sophomores played on the girl's basketball team, four sophomores played on the varsity basketball team which won the Central District Championship.

Grades were stressed even more when we became juniors and we began to think of life long goals. We leafed through college catalogues and took the PSAT to see where we excelled. Of course, we still had fun, we won first place for the homecoming float and Stephanie Holmes was elected Miss Homecoming '77. The football team voted Patricia Chappell Miss Football Sweetheart. Our class officers: Mark Moore, President; Terri Bonner, Vice-president; Mary Betts, Secretary; and Annette Smith, Karen Moore, and Marsha Carpenter, Senators. The class colors were green and white, and the class motto was "Always and Forever." Bonnie Sims was Vice-president of the SCA. The ring dance was in March and Annette Smith was voted Junior Ring Dance Queen. Juniors were involved in sports, we helped the football team to its first regional victory in a number of years. Junior players helped the basketball team win the first regional championship since Moses Malone.

You could say our senior year started in mid-August, when we took our senior pictures. That was only the beginning. We still had to order our caps and gowns, announcements and other things. As in our freshman year, we voted on class superlatives and are still looking forward to our senior prom. We voted on class colors, which were burgundy and white, and class motto "Looks Like We Made It." The class officers were: Cutee Giles, President; Regina Shands, Vice-president; Annette Smith, Sherri Cooksey, and Wanda Davis, Senators; and Shelton Lanier, SCA President. Our football team is working hard to defeat its opponents, and we expect another exciting basketball team. Those are the extras which make any school year successful, and that is what I want our last year to be. I think our class is the greatest, and I hope when the time comes for graduation, we will be able to say, "Looks Like We Made It!"

SHOWN BY SENIORS

The Boy's and Girl's State candidates were chosen secretly by the faculty. They had to meet the requirements of a 3.0 average and having the versatility of a good student. After being chosen, they each spent a week during the summer at the state camps and learned how government elections work. They participated directly in elections of their own.

SENIOR OFFICERS AND SPONSORS

Angela Taylor proves a capable substitute for Regina Shands.

Judge Cooley smiles as he looks out on his appreciative audience.

Mrs. Gravitte keeps the chorale in good harmony.

Judge Cooley gestures to get his point across.

The senior class takes it all in with a smile.

The senior class sponsored the Alumni Assembly to honor PHS Alumni and retired teachers. Cutee Giles (President of the Senior Class) introduced the program. The band (under the direction of Mr. McKinley) played a selection. Angela Taylor (a substitute for Regina Shands) introduced the speaker. After Judge Robert H. Cooley III spoke, the chorale (under the direction of Mrs. Gravitte) sang. Mr. Porach gave remarks, Cutee Giles closed the program and the band and chorale performed our Alma Mater. After the program, there was a reception in the teacher's lounge for retired teachers and guests. There was a cake decorated and lettered with "Welcome Alumni". Appropriately enough, the Alumni day program was held on Teacher Appreciation Day.

Our speaker, Judge Robert H. Cooley III is a Petersburg native, and a product of the Petersburg School System, he graduated from Peabody High School in 1955. He is also a graduate of VUU, Richmond, Va. with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He received his Juris Doctor degree from the Howard University of Law, Washington, DC, in 1962. In his varied career he became the first person of his race to serve as a judge in Petersburg, and also similarly the first to serve as a judge in a Federal Court sitting in Virginia in the State's history. He is married to the former Ruby Carter of Bowling Green, Virginia, who is the Chairperson of the Business Education Department of Petersburg High School. They have two daughters and one son. Judge Cooley is a member of the Board of Vestry of Saint Stephen's Episcopal Church, of Petersburg.

SENIOR RING DANCE BRINGS

"Supreme Choice" sings ring dance theme, "Always and Forever."

ALWAYS AND FOREVER

The ring dance for the class of '79

The activities leading up to the ring dance began in the auditorium when the junior class met to vote on their class colors and the class theme. Green and white were chosen for the class colors and the theme, "Always and Forever", was provided by Annette Smith who was later elected Ring Queen. With the major decisions made, the confusing process of selecting just the right gown and tux began. Finally, the "night of nights" for juniors arrived. The auditorium was filled with parents, relatives, and friends, who proudly watched participants of the ring ceremony, and the crowning of the queen. The singing of the theme song by "Supreme Choice", capped the ring ceremonies. Afterwards, the juniors proceeded to the cafeteria, dancing to the beat of the music performed by "Mighty, Three, and Joy" made an enjoyable evening for everyone. Also to add to the excitement was the "Snake Man", which the band released from his cage, to supposedly frighten everyone, and to dance with the beautiful young ladies in their formal attire. All of this made the ring dance a great success —

NOTHING LESS!

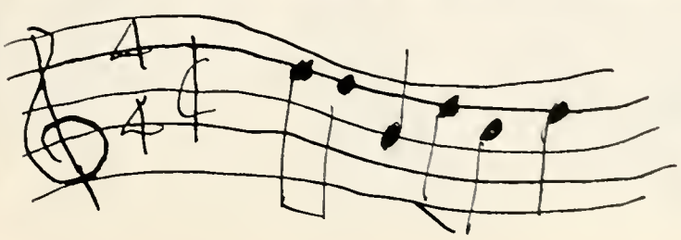
Dee Dee Lee and Ricky Miller show near perfect form as they walk through the ring.

MEMORIES LONG TO REMEMBER

Music for the night was performed by, "Mighty Three and Joy."

Ring Dance Queen, Annette Smith was escorted by "Little Freddie". She is shown with her crown.

Dancing to the beat of the music, participants show why the ring dance was a great success



SENIOR CLASS SETS

"Get up, get down, get funky, get loose" is what Drum Major Shelton Lanier and friends seem to be doing.

Belinda Scott watches the football game pensively.

At pep rallies Steven Miller shows why he accepts the nickname of "Boogie Bunny" as he dances to "Boogie Ooggie Oggie"

These seniors seem to be saying, "Hey check us out, we're the best of the best."

Waiting for the action to come to him a senior leans against the glass of the north wing.

A FAST PACE

The Class of '79 has grown a lot in their three years at PHS. They have learned to take their studies seriously and still enjoy high school life. They are involved in community projects such as helping with the baskets at Christmas time and walkathons for the needy. They are proud of PHS and proud to be a senior. They support the many clubs at PHS and their teams.

Three years have passed, years that have been hard (difficult tests, strange assignments, impossible teachers), good (passing the subject you knew you failed, a good comment from a strict teacher) and fun (gossiping with your friends, joking with a teacher, cheering at pep rallies). They are almost at an end and you may not think so now, but one day you'll look back on these days and smile.

Andre Finch gives his definition of life at PHS as he finds himself confined between the bookcase.

John Johnson really poses for the lovely woman photographer as if he were trying to get her number.

Life is added to pep rallies by Ricky Grays as he urges seniors to cheer loudly to show their school spirit.

Cynthia Parham appears to be daydreaming as she rests on a book shelf.

Seniors Have Many Faces

Whether standing alone in the halls or showing their spirit at pep rallies, seniors stand out. They're always thinking, they have an inner and outer glow and their smiles can brighten any day. They look forward to a bright and exciting future. Many of them plan to go to college or some other post high school training to enhance their career possibilities. The most prevalent thought is graduation and how near and yet far away it is. Graduation is always both a beginning and an ending and the Class of '79 plans to end High school and begin their careers beautifully. The Class of '79 is definitely an optimistic class. They welcome the future instead of fear it and take each day as a challenge that can be won, not an unbeatable battle. Their smiles and good attitudes reflect this. Another good thing about this class is that they are working toward a definite goal. They know what they want to be and are taking courses to aid in reaching that goal. Many seniors lead a dual life. They work and are students. They must keep up with their grades and be efficient in their jobs which is far from easy, but seniors are hard to beat and they go on in spite of difficulties. The senior class is a thinking and growing class that is sure to go far.

Juniors experienced the WAVE ADVENTURE by taking P.S.A.T.'s, preparing for the Ring Dance, having the biggest class size at P.H.S., ordering class rings, ruling over sophomores, and being pressured by seniors, thinking about college, having additional classwork, winning the homecoming float contest, taking on more responsibility, listening to the passive voice of Mr. Porach, and "getting off" on the weekends.

1. "And you see the top fits like this," says Mikki O'Rourke, while teaching a lesson on cleaning up. 2. Noel Brown finds it doesn't come easy. 3. Kenny Burchett gets caught in a "walk-the-halls" shot. 4. Brian Smith quenches his thirst. 5. Connie Coffin, Karen Kohlhepp and Gwen Woods provide a surplus of advertisement for a Jr. Class Dance.

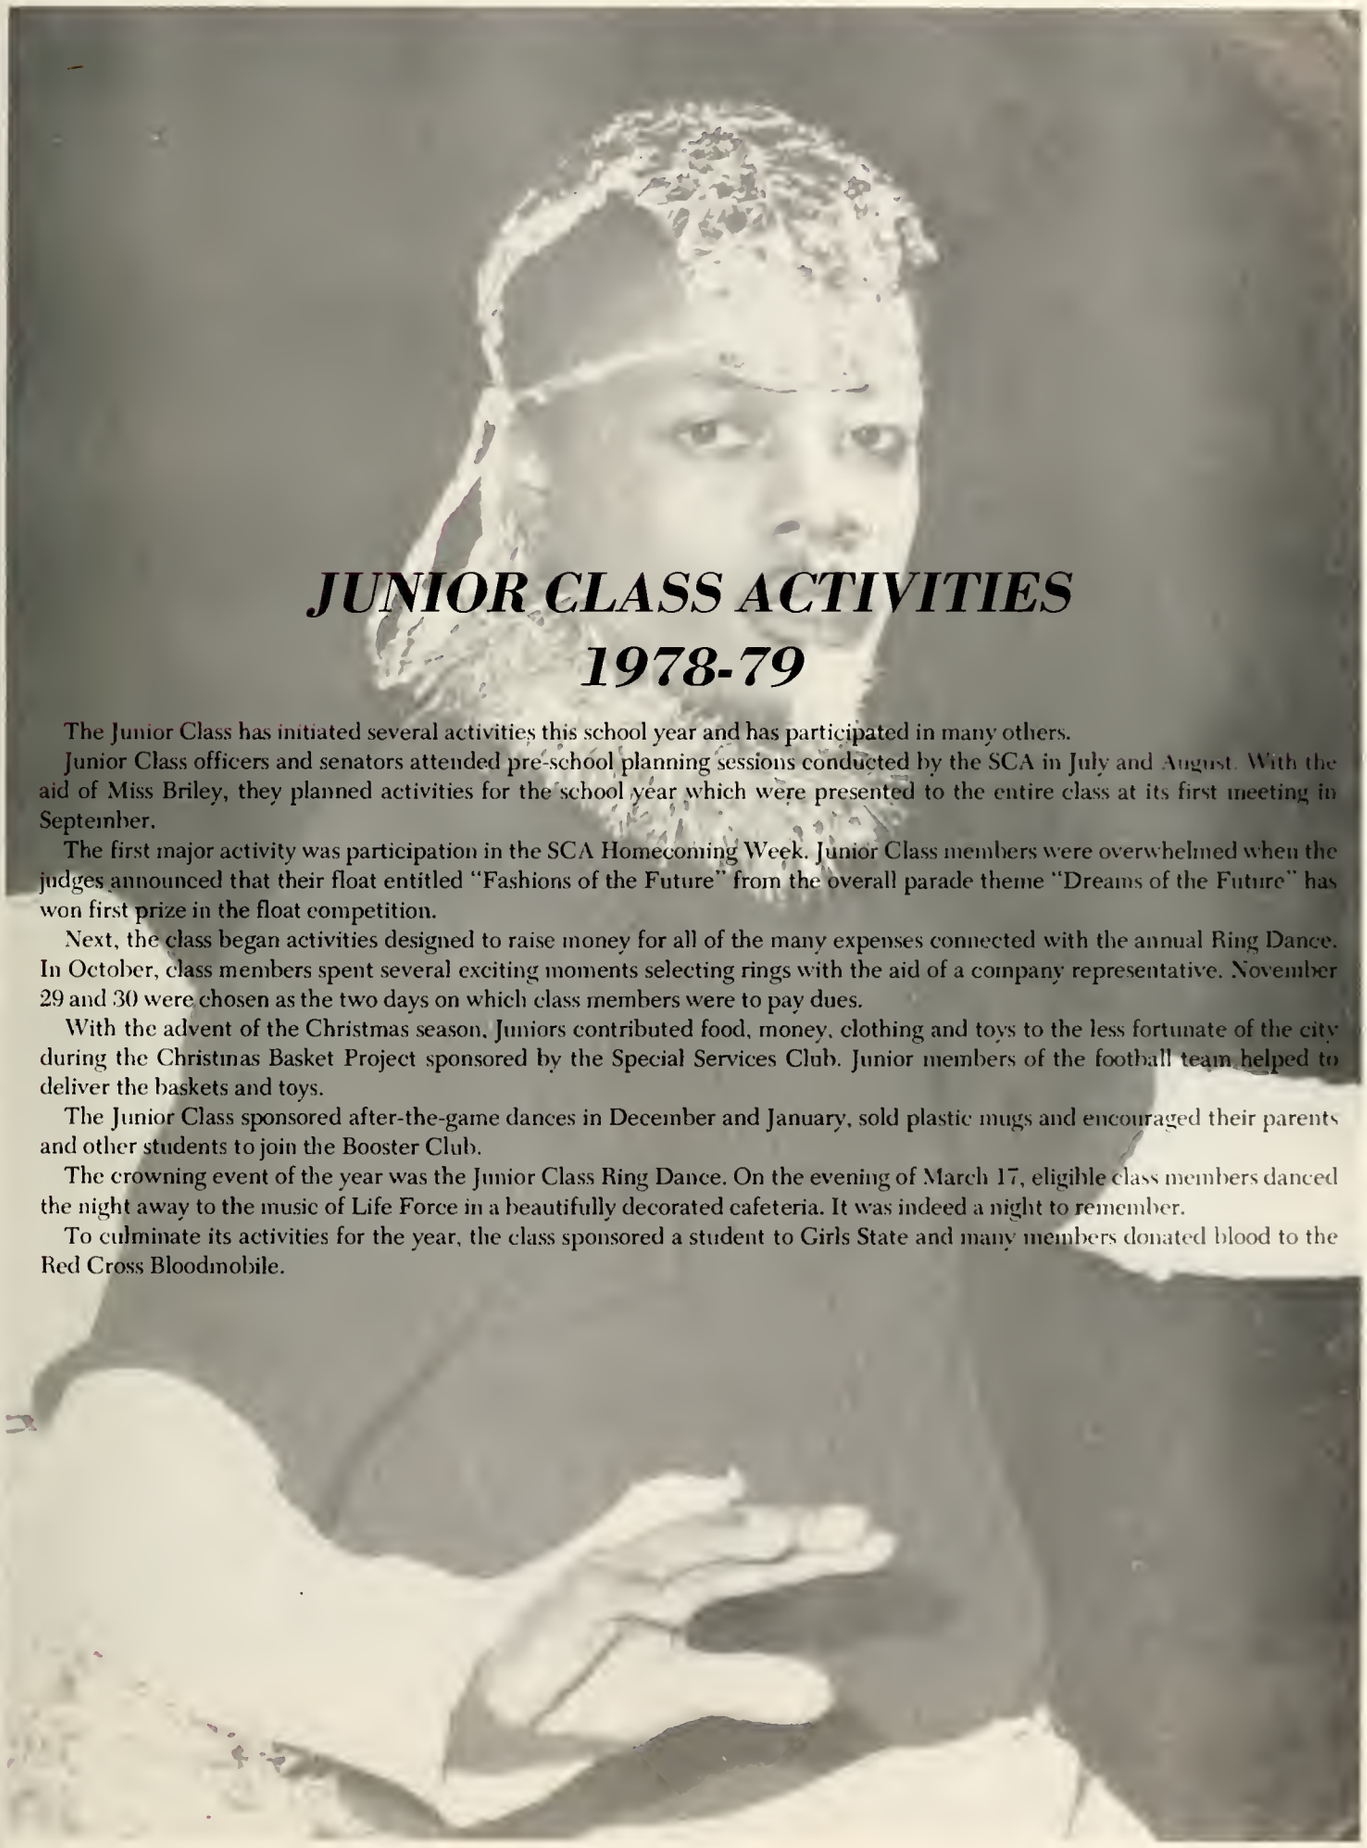
BOARD ACHIEVE GOALS



JUNIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES 1978-79

The Junior Class has initiated several activities this school year and has participated in many others.

Junior Class officers and senators attended pre-school planning sessions conducted by the SCA in July and August. With the aid of Miss Briley, they planned activities for the school year which were presented to the entire class at its first meeting in September.

The first major activity was participation in the SCA Homecoming Week. Junior Class members were overwhelmed when the judges announced that their float entitled "Fashions of the Future" from the overall parade theme "Dreams of the Future" has won first prize in the float competition.

Next, the class began activities designed to raise money for all of the many expenses connected with the annual Ring Dance. In October, class members spent several exciting moments selecting rings with the aid of a company representative. November 29 and 30 were chosen as the two days on which class members were to pay dues.

With the advent of the Christmas season, Juniors contributed food, money, clothing and toys to the less fortunate of the city during the Christmas Basket Project sponsored by the Special Services Club. Junior members of the football team helped to deliver the baskets and toys.

The Junior Class sponsored after-the-game dances in December and January, sold plastic mugs and encouraged their parents and other students to join the Booster Club.

The crowning event of the year was the Junior Class Ring Dance. On the evening of March 17, eligible class members danced the night away to the music of Life Force in a beautifully decorated cafeteria. It was indeed a night to remember.

To culminate its activities for the year, the class sponsored a student to Girls State and many members donated blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Person; Wow,
Well, it has taken me two & a half years to really get to know each other. And I hope that we will continue to remain friends for the rest of our lives. Please, continue to be friends with me and be able to come to me with any of your problems.
You are a very sweet, nice, handsome and one understanding person that I will always remember.
I hope that I will meet you at the Yadda of Success!!
And I also hope that we both reach the goals that we have been searching for, for these many 3 years.
Stay sweet and always remember me

Dedicated in the Memory of Arthur Childress

Though I never knew you,
Your passing away meant much to me.
It brought to reality,
That death comes to everyone.
The young, the old, and the unborn.
Through your death,
I am able to live more.
I hope to experience
What you were not able to.
And I hope that wherever you might be,
You will experience also,
The joys and sorrows of the living world.
Though I never knew you, Arthur,
I miss you,
Because planted in me,
Is the memory of what you stand for.

Caren B. Harris

IN REMEMBRANCE OF MICHEAL TURNER

A Place

With my mind I've dreamed of a place, Where there are no wars or troubles to face.

With my eyes I've seen that radiant shore, On which lies the treasury of everlasting joy.

With my soul I've felt the bosom of our rest, The Promise Land that God has blessed.

With my heart I've longed to be, In the great world of light that lies behind all human destinies.

With my feet I've traveled down the path to my eternal home, Where people of all ethnic origins long to roam.

With my life I've searched for the kingdom of glory,
Heaven's high city, the hereafter story.

When Micheal died he left us for that mansion in the sky, Where everyone lives with the eternal Father and like him will never ever die.

John Edenstrom — What advise do you give to the Class of "80"?

"First keep up your grades. Start thinking of a good career. Make the best in whatever you do".

Cynthia Stewart — Now that you are a junior here at PHS, what is your next goal to achieve?

"My next goal to achieve is to become a senior and strive for success throughout my life".

Darryl Edwards — What advice could you give the sophomore class?

"It is the time now to be thinking seriously on what you want to do. Start thinking on what goal you really want to achieve. Think on what you want to obtain now! But mostly think about graduating and getting further education in college".

The first year at PHS, was a special WAVE ADVENTURE for sophomores. Distinguishing the East wing from the West wing, taking competency tests, breaking in a new type of school life, being at the bottom of the class ladder, and attending the sophomore Sweetheart Dance were among the highlights of their 1978-79 school year. Despite their inexperience in the high school scene, the class of '81 stood up for what they were. Togetherness at pep rallies and patience with juniors and seniors, was part of the sophomore strategy.

1. Gary Garley prepares for one of his first semester exams. 2. Claudia Newman daydreams as she finishes eating her gourmet lunch. 3. Victor Harvell and Rodney Pulliam get caught in a shot during an activity period. 4. Sherry Wilson, Towanda Barber, Gil Webb, Micheal Walstead, and Micheal Saunders display their masterpiece. 5. Terrence Crosby takes on a sophisticated pose.

SOPHOMORES ON

At the beginning of the 1978-79 school year, 588 Sophomores were welcomed to Petersburg High School. A first day of school orientation for Sophomores was held and everyone was pleased with the attitude and cooperation of the Sophomore Class. The class as a whole adjusted very quickly and very well to their new environment and has continually shown a desire and an eagerness to maintain a high standard of academic achievement.

The Sophomore class officers consist of Traci Batts as President; Joseph Lyons as Vice-President; and Anita Rogers as Secretary. They also have three members of the Executive Board: Timothy Massenburg, Carlton Allen, and Patricia Scott.

On the first and second of November, the Sophomore class was given the Competency tests, on which a passing score of 70 would be required for graduation.

Activities for the Sophomore class started early in the year with the class sponsoring two candy sales and the Homecoming Dance and participation in the Homecoming parade. The theme for the Sophomore float was "Steps into the Future". Pink and burgundy were chosen as the class colors and the class motto is "We'll leave as one in '81". In February, the Sophomore class will have their annual Sweetheart Dance. Only Sophomores who have paid their dues and their quests will be allowed to attend this special sophomore event.

Throughout the year, Sophomore class has shown a high degree of maturity in their efforts to become a truly constructive segment of PHS. They have illustrated an enthusiasm and willingness to take part in all aspects of school life at PHS. The goal of the class is not to have a good Sophomore year but to make each year their best year at PHS and to truly leave as one in '81.

To Walter,
A dear sweet and kind person whom I've known for quite sometime. Walter you are one of the sweetest and lovable guy a girl could have for a friend. Strive forward to try to maintain a high goal in life because I know you got what it takes.
Much Success In The Near Future.

Your Best Friend,
Chanel Lewis

The Class of '81 stands shy of none, as they energetically prove that they are one.

Sophomores are deeply indulged in Home Economics.

1. Sophomores enjoy a relaxing moment with Ms. Wynn during P.E. 2. and 3. Sophomores display their class nicely on the first prize float for Homecoming 78. 4. Sophomore flag girls carefully watch each other during routine. 5. Sophomore P.E. class participated in volleyball. 6. Sophomore Keithly Simpson takes note of crazy antics of Seniors.

THE SOPHOMORE STYLE

Sophomores in their first year at PHS make the adjustment quite well. Both in their school work and their other activities. They make the most of their beginning, making Homecoming '78 a fantastic event, working together at their class meetings, and at having the annual Sweetheart Dance. As shown below they are all smiles at work and play.

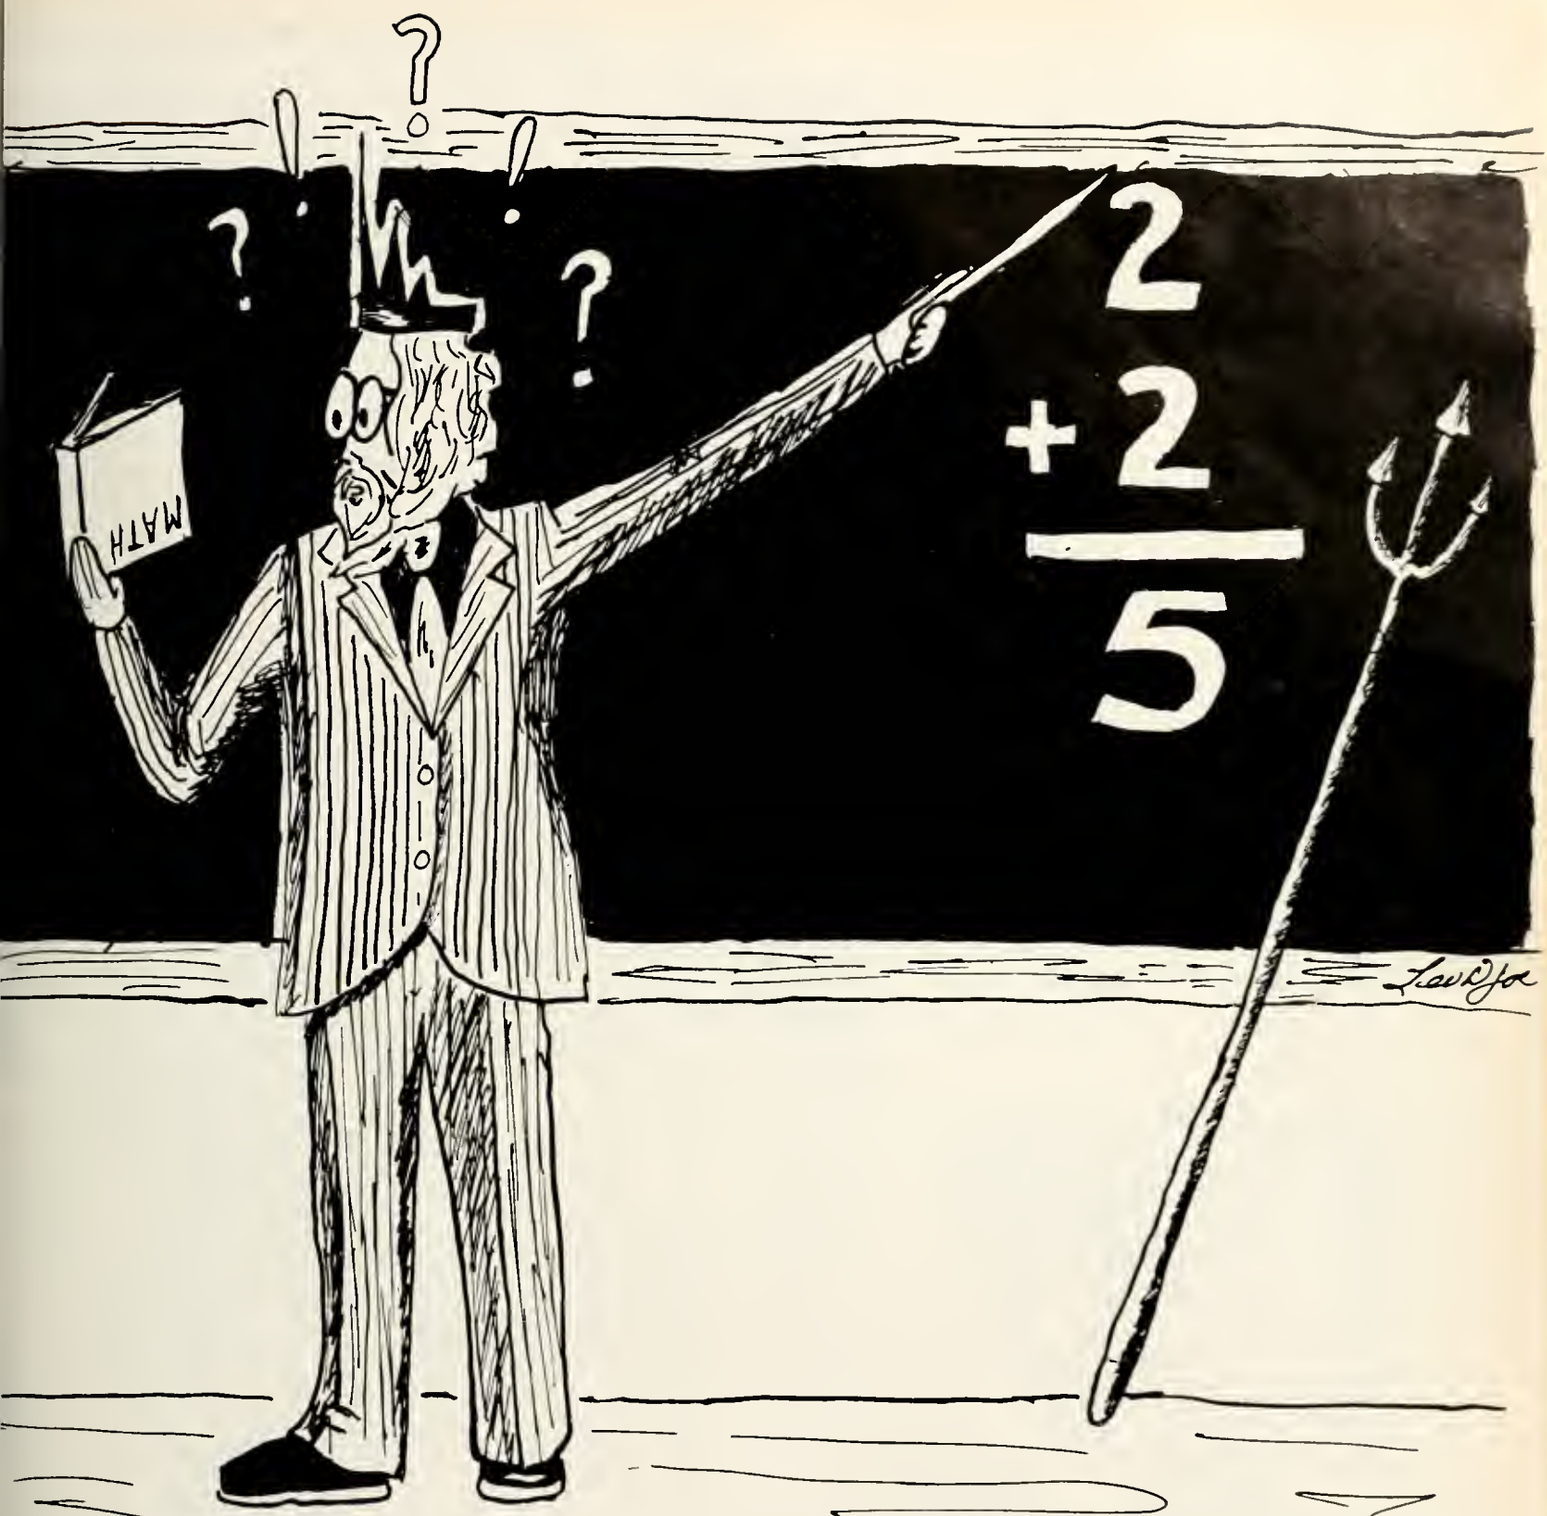
The faculty and administrative staff of PHS led the WAVE ADVENTURE by preparing students for college, providing a good education, being patient, and catching a minute's break whenever possible. There were many additions to the faculty and staff of PHS as well as a new principal, Mr. James Porach. Mr. Porach led the WAVE ADVENTURE by adjusting to his new position and setting up "his" system. Working at PHS means more than just making money. It means helping out where you are needed so that others can be successful also.

1. Mrs. Ridley expresses that working isn't all bad. 2. Mrs. Lawson explains job opportunities at a Senior Class meeting. 3. Mrs. Wood teaches students by showing them what to do. 4. Mrs. Gandersman attempts to compose herself as she has been upset by several students. 5. Mr. Pegram watches students during his lunch duty and suspects that something's going on.



FACULTY

PHS HAS CHANGE IN

The newest change for the student body for the school year 78-79 was the addition of a new principal: Mr. James J. Porach.

James Porach was born a Libra on October 22, 1939. His early schooling was at Milton Hershey School in Hershey, Pa. After graduation he attended William and Mary College, where he obtained his B.S. degree. After graduating from college, Mr. Porach served 2 years in the Army. He then continued his schooling at the University of Virginia to obtain his Masters Degree.

His teaching career began after he left the Army. His first job was at Prince George High School teaching ninth and tenth graders Physical Education. He also served as the Football Coach 1963-1965. He came to PHS in 1965 and taught history and government until 1971 when he took a position as the Assistant Principal at Peabody Junior High School. He returned to PHS in the fall of 1975 to assume the job of Assistant Principal. Then, in 1978 Mr. Porach became Principal.

Some of Mr. Porach's activities include snow skiing, golf, and viewing the College of William and Mary's football games. He also enjoys reading when time permits.

Mr. Porach is a member of the Petersburg High School Booster's Club, Fraternal Order of the Eagles, William and Mary Athletic Educational Foundation, Reserve Officers Association, and is still active in the U.S. ARMY RESERVE, heading the rank of Major.

Mr. Porach says that the biggest difference between Assistant Principal and Principal is the larger scope of responsibilities and paper work.

Mr. Porach hopes that PHS will be the kind of school that serves every student's needs and purposes. He wants PHS to give its students a meaningful preparation for their future, whether they wish to attend college after graduation or enter into the world of work.

Mrs. Hollins isn't satisfied to just sit in her office all day.

ADMINISTRATIVE LINE-UP

Petersburg must be a very likeable city because one man sold All State Insurance to get here and liked it so much that he decided to stay and teach here. That man is Mr. Curling, assistant principal. He attended East Tennessee State University for his bachelors and the University of Virginia for his masters in education and administration. He also attended the Oscar Smith School in Chesapeake. He taught in Indiana for 3 years, Kentucky for 2 years and PHS for 14 years. He became assistant principal in 1972. He has been working in administration for 6½ years. He likes being a principal at PHS and plans to retire here. His hobbies are golf and Monday Morning Quarterbacking. He is a member of the Boosters Club. He has a good sense of humor, is friendly and understanding and being a man of great foresight and wisdom, has definite plans for his two sons. He wants his oldest to finish the 10th grade and later be an engineer and his youngest son to be a scientist and find a cure for cancer. Other than that, he wants them to replace the Beatles. Rather than teaching school, he'd like to be at Myrtle Beach playing golf. Of course day after day of golf would eventually get boring and for a man like Mr. Curling that would never do. Life at Petersburg High is anything but normal and calm, for a former insurance salesman who dreams of "a hole in one" has found his home.

Hardworking and dependable are two words that describe Mrs. Elva Hollins, assistant principal. She has attended Virginia State College, the College of William and Mary and the University of Virginia. She is a graduate of Peabody High School. She taught at Peabody and PHS. She was a Spanish teacher for 15 years and has been in administration for 5 years. She is a member of the advisory board of the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Her hobbies are reading and sports. She has met her goals and plans to travel in the future. She feels that students are not serious enough and are only willing to "just get by." She says that students get out of school what they put in.

PHS TEACHERS: ALWAYS

Mrs. Whitefield is dilligent when it comes to grading papers and returning them on time.

Mrs. Miller isn't sure what to do next.

Mrs. Nelson has made one of her few mistakes.

Miss Briley always has time for a smile.

Mrs. Bailey has a smile for everyone.

Mrs. Harvey gets ready for another class.

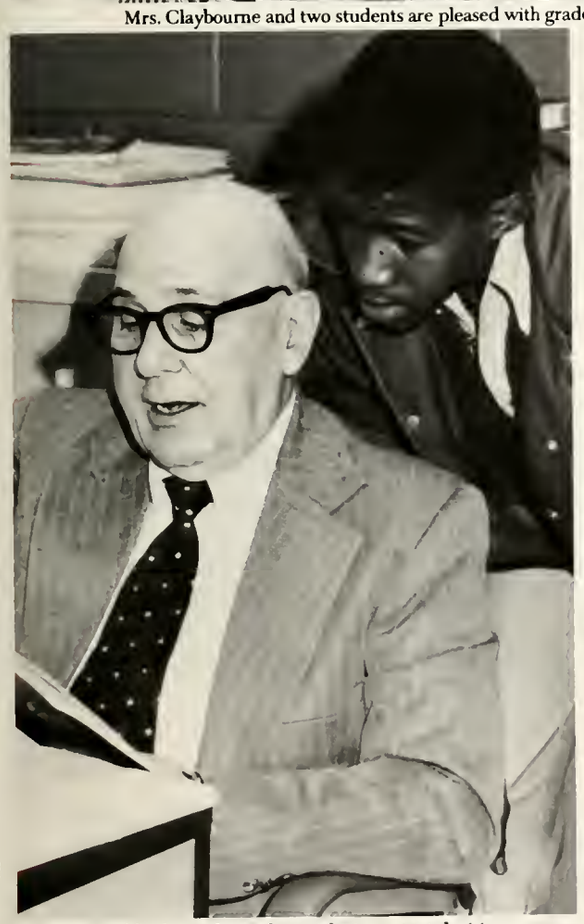
Mrs. Clark is always busy and cheerful.

Mrs. Hall takes time out to lean back and relax.

BOSSY, ALWAYS CARING

Mrs. Claybourne and two students are pleased with grades.

Mrs. Carr and students: a perfect family portrait.



Mr. Aldredge and a student make important decisions.

Mrs. Willcox in a relaxed moment.

Mrs. Mickens and student seem to get along just fine.

Another fun moment in Mrs. Downey's class.

powerful, stubborn, self-reliant

Numerology has been a numbers game since the long ago days of the ancient Babylonians, Egyptians and Hebrews. These sages of ancient times believed that each number contained vibrations that held the key to one's destiny. They also believed that every number had its counterpart in certain letters of the alphabet. How do others see you? What is your destiny? The letters of your name are supposed to provide clues if you turn each letter into its corresponding number and then add up the figures.

TEACHERS OF PHS: THE BEST

Mr. Walker in a serious moment.

A woman's work is NEVER done!!

Mr. Sullivan pondering his next move.

Mrs. Kiser takes a break.

Mrs. West lights up for our cameras.

Just one more list to check . . . I hope!

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT SPONSORS COLLEGE NIGHT

Who else besides actors receive mixed reviews? Those hardworking, underpaid individuals we call teachers. If there's anyone who catches it from all sides, teachers rank among the top. They must tolerate noisy, unruly students and, in overcrowded classrooms, find time to help those that need extra instruction. Besides making out lesson plans and running off papers they must do a secretary's job and do it well. There are countless forms to be filled out and turned in. Often the equipment they must use is unsuitable or not available. They must calmly listen to irate parents complain about how unfair they are to their kids without taking any of the responsibility themselves. The students themselves criticize teachers and complain about low grades. The quality of education is being questioned along with the ability of teachers. Even the best of teachers can't force knowledge into an unwilling mind and even if they could it probably wouldn't stay long. The majority of pupils just do enough to get by and could care less about learning. In short, a teacher sighs more than she smiles and no matter what we may think of them, at least part of it is our fault.

The Guidance Department of PHS helps make decisions for our future. Expert counseling is provided by six counselors and there is one job placement officer. This department sponsors College Night and keeps records of our high school courses. The Guidance Department is here to help us have a successful post high school life and for the aid they give us we owe them our most sincere thanks.

Mr. Porach is always found in the most elegant of company.

The language we so often take for granted is a fascinating mixture of our past, present and future. American English evolved from the language and customs of the people that settled this land, it is shaped by the trends of the day as the increase in the use of slang and how it is accepted. New inventions and discoveries add to our vocabulary day by day. Mastery of a language provides the most direct means of communication and self expression. In our daily conversations, in letters and in official written papers we communicate facts and give our impressions on the matter at the same time. The better we can do this, the better our results are and getting the idea across properly is the whole idea behind English courses. The English Department at PHS has two additions this year. Mrs. Brenda Wynn originally from Christianburg Va. is a graduate of the college of Emory and Henry and Va. Tech. Mr. Shelton Belsches teaches Spanish I and English ("Word Power" and "Success in Writing"). He attended the University of Richmond and Middleburg College in Vermont. The English teachers of PHS take an active part in supporting the student body. Mrs. Briley and Mrs. Harrison sponsor the Cheerleaders in Mrs. Smith's absence. Mrs. Willcox sponsors the Review and Mrs. Nelson sponsors the radio show (School Scan) on WSSV. Mrs. Hugate sponsors the yearbook staff. This year English teachers were concentrating on basic grammar skills for sophomores to help them pass the competency tests. Their efforts were a large success, about 80% passed. The department plans to revise its curriculum for next year with an emphasis on grammatical skills. Mrs. Maniego, who is head of the department produces and directs the Playmakers of Virginia (a professional theater company utilizing students and teachers, among others). She hopes to bring a higher level of art appreciation to the city. Her English Literature class enacts the play MacBeth each year to aid in understanding and enjoyment of the work.

LEARN A FOREIGN LANGUAGE AND GIVE YOUR MIND A CHANCE TO TRAVEL

Bonjour, Buenos Dias and Salve are the greetings you're likely to hear in the Foreign Languages Department. French, Spanish and Latin are taught. There are six teachers in the department and many of them have traveled abroad. April is Foreign Language month and in late March or early April the department sponsors Foreign Language Week which includes the international banquet, French day; Latin day and Spanish day. The Latin Club made coloring books as Christmas gifts for children and plans to go to the Mariner's Museum in Norfolk. Third year French students went to see a play in Richmond, "The Little Prince", and the French classes are planning a trip to France during the Easter break. There is a new Spanish teacher this year, Mrs. Carr who is a graduate of Ga. State. She is also sponsor of the Spanish Club. The Spanish Club plans a Christmas Fiesta.

Of late the value of education has been questioned by many. They ask if what is taught in schools prepares a student for a job. That is the purpose of vocational courses to familiarize students with, develop appreciation for and develop salable job skills. At PHS, students and teachers use equipment related to the job and many get on the job training. Today's job market demands that applicants be well trained and the Vocational Department of PHS is seeing to it that this requirement is met.

The Special Ed Department of PHS works to make the special ed student adjust to and find the place in the community that is right for them. They encourage students with special skills and help them develop their talents to the fullest. They help those with learning problems gain basic skills. This year Mrs. Nadine Payne, a new reading teacher aids in this effort. She has attended Concord State Teachers College, West Virginia University and the University of Va.

One of the most important services PHS offers students is its excellent library. It has a wide range of reference books to help students. With well trained personnel to assist in locating information, you are sure to find the library one of your best assets. The library is one of the school's greatest assets and we should appreciate it and the people that make it work so well for us.

PHS teachers are always available to give expert advice.

Special abilities deserve expert handling and for the talented art students of PHS this is amply provided for by our fine art department. The department has finished the mural of Neptune coming out of the sea. The mural is on display for all to see and enjoy. Miss Peggy Wood is a new art teacher. She is a graduate of James Madison University. She is in charge of painting the cafeteria at Peabody, where she taught for 8 years.

Proficiency in math is vital. Math is used in every aspect of our lives and the Math teachers of PHS hope to give the student body confidence with the subject so they can learn basic skills with less difficulty. Everything from Business Math to Trig is taught here and it's taught to prepare the student for higher math or practical job and home use. Gifted math students enter math contests and even take college level courses while in high school. Some PHS students entered the Virginia Commonwealth University Greater Richmond Area Math Contest. Mr. Stump is the Math teacher who replaces Mrs. Ridley. He is a graduate of Va. State College and teaches Algebra 3, Geometry and one Math Skills Review class.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT HAS CAREER ORIENTED DISPLAY

The Business world is something that everyone can identify with even if you don't know much more than what you've read or seen on TV. There are many varied jobs available in this field but they aren't just for anyone. You have to have desire, knowledge and skills to even have a chance and that's what the Business Department of PHS is here to bring about. Secretaries, accountants, market specialists, store management, ad men, copy writers, insurance, stenographers and of course executives are a few of the opportunities this field offers. The teachers give training that is directly related to obtaining a job; as a matter of fact many juniors and seniors put their classroom skills to use in part-time jobs. The classrooms are designed to give an office atmosphere and the department had a display in the main hall to promote career interest. The FBLA had several candy drives during the year. In the '77-'78 school year PHS FBLA member Alcenia Giles won first place in Stenography II. Alcenia and Mrs. Geraldine Jones (Club sponsor) flew to San Francisco for the FBLA national convention in July. Kenneth Hutson, Sara Newman, Odessa Stith and Bonnie Neeley attended the VCU Fall Regional Workshop on Oct. 14.

For musically inclined students the Music Department of PHS makes sure that talent doesn't go to waste. The band is under the direction of Mr. McKinley and the choir is directed by Mrs. Gravitte. They bring music to our sporting events and programs which all of us enjoy. The Music Department is growing bigger and better at PHS and we wish them continued success.

Keeping fit makes you look and feel good and even live longer. The PE Department of PHS would like to see all of us healthy and happy. Our PE teachers teach gym, health and classroom driver's ed. They also offer behind the wheel instruction. Coach James Journigan is a new addition to the department. He is a graduate of Emory and Henry College and Virginia Commonwealth University. He is a former football, basketball and track coach and works with our football and track teams.

Mr. Hairston honors us with his inspiring words of wisdom.

Teachers and students can work in harmony.

We may not realize how many people contribute to the smooth running of this school. Cafeteria workers serve hot lunches, custodians keep the school clean and the nurse aids us in time of sickness. For their dedicated work they deserve our thanks and cooperation.

Today's world is growing more technical all the time and that means an increasing and changing job market. The Industrial Arts teachers of PHS are training students to be prepared for these jobs. Mr. Charles Bartlett is the new Industrial Arts teacher. He is a graduate of Norfolk State and is an alumnus of PHS. This department not only teaches skill but gives students confidence in themselves and pride in their work.

SOCIAL STUDIES CLUB IS NEW AT P.H.S.

The Social Studies Department studies the past to learn about the future. Human nature doesn't change much and history does repeat itself which makes it valuable. The Social Studies Club is new this year and is sponsored by Mr. Leftwich. There are three new history teachers this year. Mrs. Jaqueline Tindall teaches World History and Geography and comes to us from Germany. Mr. Coleman is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and Virginia State College and teaches problem solving techniques to help 10th graders with the competency tests. Mr. Wyche teaches Geography and History and is a graduate of PHS.

The Administrative Department of PHS is a vital aid to teachers and students. Secretaries keep up with our transcripts and see to it that our parents get necessary information, the attendance office keeps teachers and students aware of our attendance and assistant principals handle a variety of administrative matters. This department keeps PHS running smoothly and we owe them our support and thanks.

Mr. Pegram keeps a watchful eye over the cafeteria crowd.

A well rounded knowledge of science is a definite plus in today's ever expanding world. There are dimensions in careers now that would have been called impossible 30 years ago and the Science Department at PHS is meeting that challenge. Biology, chemistry, physics and environmental sciences are taught here. The department welcomes Mr. Benjamin Dyer who has helped Coach Lawson even before he came here besides teaching science. Science students of PHS have been invited to a Richmond Chapter of the American Society of Metals talk by Professor Robert Pond of John Hopkins. The PHS Science Club is a member of the Junior Academy of Science. Members of the club can compete in the presentation of research papers with other high school students in the state. In the spring, promising science students will be able to attend science summer institutes sponsored by American colleges. In previous years students have attended science institutes at Harvard, Georgia Tech and VPI. VEPCO is having its 100th anniversary this year and PHS science students have been asked to attend the celebration.

CHARLOTTESVILLE:

Being an athlete means more than just playing sports. It means determination, self-confidence, pressure, pain, victory, strong-will and talent. The basketball team of PHS exhibited each of these, but the last thing they were to experience was a mixture of pain, and victory; pain from having an undefeated season only to lose to a defeated team in the battle for the state championship; victory by taking the loss not as a downfall but as another part of life. The state championship tournament in 1979 proved to be a very special one for Petersburg, not because we lost the game, but because the support from Petersburg fans continued to come

"Mark West, Darrell Stith, Bobby Stovall, Wayne Hines, etc. may be the best collection of high-school basketball players never to wear the nets from a state championship game around their necks." We may not wear them around our necks, but we truly deserve them in our hearts. To the fine athlets of PHS — You're #1!!

The community fostered the WAVE ADVENTURE by buying ads, attending the sports affairs, supporting the Booster's Club and by buying bumper stickers. The community is very important to the people at PHS because without them we could not survive. Just as the community often depends on us economically, we expect their support as well. Not only are we proud to have help from a community as supporting as ours, but we are also proud to be a part of this community.

1. These people find relief from the summer sun with a drink. 2. Community churches make up a large part of our city. 3. These children are gathered together for a celebration. 4. Our community would never have any money without banks.

Desegregation Plan Advan

RICHMOND (AP) — Whether proposed changes in college courses at two Norfolk schools will save Virginia from a threatened cut-off of an estimated $100 million in federal education funds is now up to the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

The changes, aimed at ending duplicate courses at predominantly white Old Dominion University and mostly black Norfolk State College over a 4½-year period, were announced Monday by Gov. John Dalton.

While the proposal had the approval of both schools, a spokeswoman for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Office of Civil Rights noted they still must be approved by the NAACP group, which has filed a federal court suit over college desegregation.

"We have received a plan from the governor and under...court order we are obligated to show the plan to the plaintiffs before accepting it or rejecting it. We've submitted it to the NAACP Legal Defense Fund," said Colleen O'Connor in Washington.

Asked whether plan as it now stands is acceptable, she said, "We can't make that sort of decision until we get the comments from the plaintiffs."

Representatives of the two colleges, the state and HEW worked out the proposals in a series of meetings in Washington.

Before the HEW comment, Dalton had said this should mean HEW agrees with Virginia's overall plan for desegregating its state-supported colleges and universities.

And Attorney General Marshall Coleman said the announcement by Dalton indicated it would not be necessary for Virginia to take HEW to court to avoid a fund cut-off.

"It appears now that litigation will be unnecessary," he said.

Despite the failure of HEW to announce approval immediately, the presidents of Norfolk State and Old Dominion said they felt the course changes should meet all objections.

"We believe this represents a satisfactory solution to the problem of duplication of programs in the Tidewater area, fully consistent with the spirit of the Virgir President Alfred B Ro Dominion.

MAKE YOUR MARK

To: Aaron,

A guy who has meant a lot to me and always will. Though I have not known you a very long time, in that short time I have grown to love you. And a guy I will always remember as being his kind, sweet and loving self. The times we had together were precious, and I will never forget them. And I will never forget you Aaron. I wish you all the luck in the future with the girls, school, everything. Remember me always.

Love,
Pam

Through the 1978-79 yearbook the Missile Staff has attempted to motivate the members of PHS to find their own wave of success. Everyone has a special talent, and everyone has the potential to achieve the maximum in life. Each of us must travel a different path on the road to success. The journey may be a difficult one, but one of the major elements a successful person possesses is persistent determination. If you find that you are losing confidence in yourself, look back on the WAVE ADVENTURE. It will remind you of where you're going and where you have come from. Your journey will not be complete until you find the shore on which lies your success.

May good will and good fortune follow you throughout your endeavors.

To Alan
A very sweet friend whom I have known for a short time, but were times when I thought we were really meant to reach other things
since some things
nad to come to an end
ou didn't like us alot
I got sweet and
I've enjoyed
I hope
future, love ya,

To Walter,

I have only known you for about one semester and we have had some good times in Mrs. Micken class. I'll always remember you cause you made me happy when I was sad. Remember when you use to give me massage in the class-room. You really made me feel better. I hope we still continue to be friends even if I don't have a class with you next year. Please keep in touch, because you're the kind of friend, that come 1 out of a million. I wish you the best of luck in whatever you do, cause you have a good head on your shoulder. Please do play all the girls, it's good for ouch, but soon or late you're going to need a real woman (Ex me, I mean) Love

To my cuz
I wish you lots of luck in the near future, Stay
cool.

Love,
Anita

TO: WALTER
A very sweet, AND CRAZY guy, that I will always remember.
I would like to wish you all the success.
Good luck with all the women.

Walter, Sometimes I wonder about you! Please work hard to accomplish your goal & being a surgeon. Anything you want to do you can. I always top God in your life and success will come.

Love,
L. Jones

Walter,
I know that I have not always been up nice to you and I hope you will forgive me for that. Your cheerfulness and graciousness brightens my days. You will have the best of life because you would stand for less.

Best of Luck!
Stay sweet 'Tol
Love ya

To My Big Brother,

First of all I would like to thank you for being the best brother in my sophmore year at D.H.S. I want to wish you all the "Luck" and "Success" in the future years to come. Tell "pappa" we'll be seeing him soon and to come over real soon. Be careful and watch out for those young sines. Good luck with all the women (No problems). Be seeing you!!

Love always
Little Sis
Roseann

P.S. WATCH FOR SKILBHIT!!!!

Dear Brother,

Even though I haven't known you long, I think you are a very responsible young man with a future personality. I hope in the time to come we can get to know each other better.
Just stay the way you are now, and success
will come your way.
I wish you luck and much happiness in the years to come. Remember me always.

Love
Your
"SO" Judy
